

If this is marked with a blue pencil it shows that your subscription is due (or will be at the end of this month) and must be paid at once or your Avalanche will be stopped.

Crawford

Avalanche

JUSTICE AND RIGHT

VOLUME XLIV

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, SEPTEMBER 28, 1922

OSCAR P. SCHUMANN, Editor and Proprietor

NUMBER 40

DROWNS IN LAKE MARGRETHE

ED. APPELBERG DROWNS WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES.

Companion Saved After Two Hours In Water.

Edward Appelberg, age 42, met death by drowning in Lake Margrethe Sunday when the boat, in which he and John Wahlstrum were fishing, capsized. They were about a half mile off Danish landing.

The two men had been fishing in the morning and came to shore for their dinners and put out again to continue their lay's plans. It was soon after noon that the accident occurred.

Tey had been fishing at one place and decided to pull up anchor and move to another and Appelberg, according to Mr. Wahlstrum's story, was pulling one of the anchors, which had sunken deeply into the soft bottom of the lake, when it suddenly let loose and he overbalanced and fell into the water. This tipped the boat just in time to allow a big wave to roll into it. Wahlstrum leaned to the opposite side of the boat and it turned turtle. Thus both men were in the water. The wind was strong and the lake was in consequence very rough.

The men clung to the over-turned boat and tried to turn it right side up but each time it would roll entirely over and could not be controlled.

Both men were good swimmers. They tried to loosen the anchors and thus let the boat drift to shallow water but the rope could not be loosened. Their knives were in the boat when it capsized and were lost. They called for help but their cries were unheard on shore. Wahlstrum made two attempts to swim ashore but the waves were so strong against him that each time he turned back to the boat.

In the mean time Alfred Hanson, who was at the Danish landing noticed that he could not see the men in the boat and told some of his companions at the he believed that they were in trouble and set out in a canoe to investigate. All this time the men, who had been in the cold water about two hours, were becoming weaker and several times Appelberg had to be assisted by his companion, to keep from slipping off the boat. Wahlstrum noticed Hanson when he started out in the boat and watched to see if he was coming their way and it was during this time, he says that he was watching the approaching boat that Appelberg slipped off into the water and was drowned.

Hanson could not take Wahlstrum into the boat but towed him to shore where he was assisted by Jens Eiler-son and Elf Rasmussen who took care of Wahlstrum while Hanson returned to the boat to look for Appelberg, but he could not be found. Several hours later his body was recovered by the use of drag hooks by Sheriff Richard-son and Algot Johnson.

It was a serious catastrophe and a sad day for the members of the stricken man's family. He leaves a wife and four small children, Oscar, Eric, Leonor and Roland. Appelberg was Sweeny by birth as was also his wife. The latter says that she and the children will return to her native country.

Mr. Wahlstrum is still suffering from his exposure and also from the effects of having inhaled considerable water into his lungs. He has been confined to his bed since the accident until yesterday when he was able to be up and dressed.

Both families, and especially the mother and her four small children, have the heart-felt sympathy of the people. Mr. Appelberg was an industrious and faithful employee and was dear to his family, where the loss of the husband and father will be forever felt.

The funeral service for the stricken man was held Wednesday from the Danish church, interment was in Elmwood cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Kjolhede, and was attended.

Oscar Edmund Appelberg was born in Sweden, March 9, 1882 and came to this country less than ten years ago.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

We are indeed grateful for the patronage some of our local merchants have accorded us and assure all, our hearty appreciation and thanks.

Our publication day is Thursday of each week. In order to be able to get to press on time it is necessary that copy for advertisements be in our hands on Tuesday and just as much earlier as is convenient. Copy coming in on Wednesday, especially if there is a lot of composition, holds back our publication.

This is a day of co-operation and

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 2-9

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE TO ASSIST IN TEACHING PUBLIC.

Year by year, the national destruction of life and property by fire has been mounting until the total annual loss of material wealth now approximates the enormous sum of $485,000,000. This means the wiping out of needed resources at the rate of about $137,000 a day, in addition to the destruction of 48 lives daily.

In our own state during the five years ended with 1920, our fire waste came to the great total of $53,102,397, a sum that would build 10,820 five thousand dollar homes or many miles of good road. Thus it is evident that we have been paying our full share of the tax levied by carelessness and ignorance in handling fire hazards.

Since most fires are preventable, the regrettable devastation by burning that takes place day after day, is largely unnecessary. It goes without saying that every effort should be made to relieve the people of the self-imposed burden represented by preventable fire.

Therefore, I. R. C. Vandercook, State Fire Marshal, of Michigan by the authority in me vested, do designate and proclaim the period from October 2 to 9, 1922 as Fire Prevention week and I earnestly request that the proper city departments, co-operating with Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations, shall arrange interesting and educational exercises that will impress the importance of the occasion upon the public mind. I hope that every resident of the state will actively take part in the observance and that we will remove rubbish and litter and other hazards about their homes and places of business; that they will inaugurate the personal habit of carelessness. I ask that our churches by means of sermons and addresses and to newspapers, by editorial mention, will help to spread the doctrine of carefulness; that our schools shall adopt systematic instruction in fire prevention to the end that our state may be made a safer and better place in which to live.

Only by arousing the public to the appalling situation created by our excessive fire waste can the evil be corrected.

Witness my signature at Lansing, Michigan, this twenty-fifth day of September, A. D. 1922.

Roy C. Vandercook,
State Fire Marshal.

We wish to ask all advertisers to assist us by getting their copy to us on Tuesday or before. We do not wish to disappoint anyone who may come in late but in the interest of our subscribers, we must decline to accept advertising copy after Tuesday nights, unless the matter is of special importance and could not have been sent to us earlier. Trusting that our patrons will see this matter in the way it is meant, for the best interest of all, we remain

CRAWFORD AVALANCHE,
O. P. Schumann, Publisher.

SPECIAL

A solid 14K white gold Wrist Watch — 15 jewels, worth $25, at $18.50. For a few days only.

CARL W. PETERSON, Jeweler.

Betty Anne

Dresses, Coats and Wraps

ON SALE and DISPLAY
ONE DAY ONLY

Tuesday, October 10th

On this day our agent will be at our store with his new line of Betty Anne dresses, coats and wraps for Ladies and Misses.

You are cordially invited to come and see these dresses, coats and wraps, and you may select any of them you wish and have them delivered at once as there will be a large assortment of wool and silk dresses in sizes ranging from 14 to 44, with the same range of sizes in coats.

It is our opinion that this is an excellent opportunity for you to get your new coat and dress, as the garments shown at this time will be equal to those of any large city store, and you will be saved the inconvenience and expense of a journey to the city.

Only one dress of a style will be sold at this time, at well as only one coat of a kind, thereby assuring you of individuality in any garment you may purchase.

MRS. B. A. COOLEY The Gift Shop

For a Better Town

Conducted by Grayling Board of Trade.

Hold Your Breath

We make a big move forward if we land the new industry for Grayling. Are you behind this factory proposition with all your might, or are you sitting back and letting the few boosters do it? Within a few days it will be all settled. How much can you be depended upon to do to make it certain?

There will be a meeting Monday evening, October 2nd, at 8 p. m. at the Board of Trade rooms. Every business man and tax payer is invited to attend. Every committee appointed will be present to report on various activities.

If you aren't a booster don't you dare breathe until after this factory proposition has been definitely settled.

GRAYLING BOARD OF TRADE.
Holger F. Peterson, President.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

SHOWED HOW TO CLEAR LAND

PRACTICAL AND ECONOMICAL APPLICATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

Good Crowds Attend Schools at Frederic and Grayling.

Crawford county's two land clearing schools which were held at Frederic and Grayling Tuesday and Wednesday were great successes from the viewpoint of local residents and the men in charge of the demonstrations. Attendance exceeded expectations at both schools and those who participated in the course of instruction were surprised at the efficiency of the modern, practical methods introduced by the corps of specialists brought here by the Michigan Agricultural college.

According to L. F. Livingston, land clearing specialist for the agricultural college, the number of farmers who participated in the course of instruction at Frederic under the "learn by doing" met, or exceeded any of the schools held since the special train left Cheboygan on the 18th of September.

The school at Frederic was held under the auspices of a committee consisting of Chas. Craven, Eli Forbush and Floyd Gos, son of Frederic township and James Knibbs, Arthur Howse and John Anderson of Maple Forest township and County Agricultural agent R. D. Bailey, and the demonstration made on the farm of Arthur Howse, five miles east of Frederic.

Although the school did not start until noon three acres of fine clay loam land were cleaned of the heavy stumpage and for the most part piled in shape for burning. No attempt was made at the spectacular nor were there any "white collared" instructors among the men responsible for the schools. Every one of the extension men seemed to have a particular "job" which was filled with dispatch and efficiency.

According to the committee men at Frederic there was, with one exception, a representation from every farmer's family within a radius of seven miles of the Howse farm.

Among the many old residents attending the school were, Edward Kellogg, Conrad Howse, James Knibbs, Alfred Nepew, Archie Howse, Sr., Oscar Charron, Geo. Thomas, John Howse, Will Woodburn, Henry Verlinda and Henry Fiedlauer with twelve sons.

The Grayling school was held on the R. Hanson farm alfalfa field which is operated by Tony Nelson, Thursday from eight o'clock in the morning until four in the afternoon.

In the forenoon there were about 150 persons present, representing all townships. The crowd was very much larger in the afternoon, and conspicuous in the crowd was the presence of many pupils of the agricultural and science classes of the High School.

Demonstrations were made of picric acid, dynamite, and several kinds of power machinery including a gin pole, stump puller and the Fordson tractor.

These schools were made possible through the co-operation of the North-eastern Michigan Development Bureau, the Atlas Powder Co., E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., the Hercules Powder Co., the A. J. Kirkin Co., the La Plant Co., the C. O. Mfg. Co., the Martinson Mfg. Co., the Ford Motor Co.,

and the Michigan Central railroad.

The Michigan Central furnished the necessary equipment for transporting the machinery and men and was represented by W. H. Hill, agricultural agent and E. J. Lehnouts, assistant agricultural agent, for the New York Central lines, west. The six car train which included dining, sleeping and freight facilities stood in the background of the Hanson farm while stumpage flew.

Among the interesting and practical devices used in connection with the schools, all of which were new in this section were Paul Bunyan's hammer, the Frost trip and the handy or scissors stone boat.

Paul Bunyan's hammer, or the malte stomp puller, consisted of a log 18 inches in diameter and 30 inches long, of cedar or white pine, through which was a handle 6 inches in diameter and 6 feet long, of seasoned ironwood.

This stomp puller is a simple homemade device which does not cost one cent to construct and which will multiply the pull of your team six times when the handle is in an upright position. Many times the stump or fragment of stump is too solid to be pulled by a team alone and rather than strain the team or break the handle, a Mallet puller can be used with no loss of time.

It is made by cutting or burning a six inch hole through the log and wedging in the handle. There is very little strain on the log, hence the lightest wood obtainable should be used.

The school was operated by placing the log as close to the stump as possible with the handle laying in an upright position against the stump. A heavy chain with a "corner-bind" or "fid hook" attachment is placed around the stump as low as possible and around the handle at the point where it enters the log. It is essential that this chain be tight as the greatest leverage is obtained when the handle is in an upright position.

An ordinary draft chain is hooked to the top of the handle and to the double trees. This chain should be used full length as the draft comes too high on the horses when the chain is hooked short.

An iron bolt through the log to keep the handle from coming out, an eye bolt at the top of the handle, and some sheet metal at the lower end of the handle to keep the chain from working are all good additions but are not in any way essential.

The handy stone boat consisted of 2 hardwood planks 2 x 12 x 6, one hardwood plank 2 x 6 x 28 inches and two 2 x 5 inch bolts with washers.

This stone boat is very handy in moving stone which are one to three feet in diameter. The best asset of the machine is that it requires no labor or "back work" in loading or unloading. It cost practically nothing and can be made from materials on every farm.

It is made by rounding off an end of each plank and boring a two inch hole in that end for the chain to which the team is attached. The planks are placed side by side four inches apart. The inside edges are bevelled. The short plank is bolted across the end opposite the round points, one bolt in each plank.

When a stone is to be moved the plank are spread so that one goes on each side of the stone. A chain to which the team is attached is fastened to the hole in each plank. As the team goes along the planks close together and the stone is lifted and moved to a desired point. To unload, the chain is removed from one plank so the team can spread the boat allowing the stone to rest on the ground.

The Frost trip is a device used for piling stumps and is similar to a bay fork trip. The patents are controlled by the state and any blacksmith can make one cheaply from the drawings furnished by the college. Anyone desiring drawings of any of the devices used may have them by applying to the agricultural college.

The demonstrators and their equipment left Grayling Wednesday night for West Branch where a similar school will be conducted.

The farmers attending the school at Grayling Wednesday were dinner guests of Rasmus Hanson at Shopagon Inn that day. This added to the pleasure of the occasion according to reports.

Another revelation of the day was the way in which the Fordson tractors performed. After the stumps were blasted they finished them up by yanking them out of the ground and hauling them to the stump pile.

It was remarkable the way they got around and the power they showed. They seemed easy to operate and part of the time a young lady was doing the driving and seemed to get along as well as the veteran drivers.

Fine new line of Eaton, Crane and Pike's fine stationery just arrived.

Central Drug Store.

silo. Then go over to John's and look at his cement silo, and then say to yourself, "By jinks I'm going to have one, too. I'll show them that I am not a dead one."

Opportunity.

Unused opportunity lies all around in Crawford County on every farm.

What this county needs is, better land; but better farmers and better farming. This county needs farmers who love the soil and will care for it.

The opportunity for big crops is here. The opportunity to keep big herds of dairy cows fed with these big crops is here.

People are using the opportunity. With land to be bought for a song, yet most are putting along with little dairies of this and that.

R. Hanson, or N. Michelson would never have accomplished what they have if they had always puttered like most of our farmers. Though they began in a very small way, every year they enlarged their business.

Farmers here should do exactly the same.

It makes me sick to see the little dabs of three acres of corn, and two acres of this and that with unused land lying all around.

Hereafter, these corn fields should be long slim fields stretching away to fifteen or more acres. There should be forty acres of hay to cut. There should be a dozen cows to milk.

Ilad R. Hanson and N. Michelson always cut lumber with a small portable saw mill. They would not have

(Continued to last page.)

Victrolas and Victrola Records

We can get any Victor record you like.

Come in and hear the late numbers.

Central Drug Store.

C. W. OLSON, Prop'r.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

TOURING CAR

$348

F. O. B.

Michigan Happenings

Appointment of a commission of physicians to determine the mental condition of Arthur "Gypsy" Bob Harpen Jasper Perry and Charles Roberts, Marquette prison inmates, charged with the murder of Fred G. Menken, deputy warden at the Marquette branch prison, who died as a result of knife wounds alleged to have been inflicted by them during the fight in the prison chapel, December 11, 1921, will be petitioned for in circuit court.

Suit for $10,000 has been started against the Ionia Free Fair association by Ernest Thornton by his next friend as a result of the fireworks explosion in which he lost part of his right hand. Thornton obtained fireworks from the grounds which he called home. They exploded on the way tearing his hand to pieces and a hole in his throat. The throat has healed but all that is left of the hand is the thumb and little finger.

Miss Minnie Mills, educated in Olivet College and a missionary in Smyrna when that city recently was destroyed by fire, escaped from that port while hundreds of others were being killed by the Turks. Word of her safety came in a telegram to her sister, Mrs. Abbie Thomas of Charlotte. Miss Mills, the telegram stated, now is quartered in a Girls' School in Athens.

Unable to furnish $10,000 bail, Fred "Pug" Hamilton, charged with criminal assault upon Rose Connolly, a Detroit girl, was lodged in the county jail at Mt. Clemens. He was arraigned before Justice William J. Duses, waived examination and was bound over to the next term of circuit court. Detroit authorities are aiding local officers in tracing Hamilton's police record.

A warrant was issued in justice court charging Joseph Morrow, alderman from the First Ward, with defrauding the city of Flint of $50. According to the complaint, Morrow, on July 1, sold gravel pit equipment owned by the city for $300, received a check for $250 and $50 in cash. It is alleged that he reported to the council that the equipment brought only $250.

Resumption of service on the Saginaw street car lines, which have been idle more than a year, is asked in inflammatory petitions circulated by the Saginaw Auto Dealers' association. It asks that Otto Schupp, trustee, representing holders of first mortgage bonds, be permitted to operate the lines at a fare of 10 cents for a single ride, or 20 rides for a dollar.

When Dr. Ralph S. Jiroch of Saginaw saw flames in the basement of the home of Miss Agnes B. Muir, an invalid, he jumped from his automobile, rushed into the house and carried Miss Muir, who was one of his patients, to a place of safety, before she was overcome by the dense smoke. Firemen were compelled to use gas masks to fight the fire.

Word was received by the state public utilities commission that the Pere Marquette railroad has petitioned the interstate commerce commission to reopen its abandonment cases affecting the Freeport and White Cloud branches. The federal commission recently refused the road permission to abandon the branches.

A broken arm and other injuries are not preventing Swift Lathers, editor of the Mears News, from publishing his weekly newspaper. The newspaper is being edited from a room in the Putina Stearns Hospital at Ludington, where Mr. Lathers was taken after the truck on which he was riding upset.

River Rouge will soon be a signless city. A resolution was passed by the city commission ordering that no billboards could be erected and that those already in use must be taken down by January 1, 1923. The commission declared that the billboards destroyed the beauty of the city.

T. M. O'Brien of Bay City was named receiver for Meagher brothers, in an action started before Judge S. G. Houghton by the stockholders, asking dissolution of the corporation. The concern deals in ice, fuel and butchers' supplies.

William Ritchie, 60, who escaped from the Kalamazoo Hospital for the Insane, later hanged himself on a tree south of the hospital grounds. A posse was searching for him when his body was discovered.

James Peterson, of Iron River, was the victim of the first hunting accident in this vicinity this season. The accidental discharge of his companion's shotgun caused a flesh wound and the loss of blood caused his death before physicians arrived. Peterson was a former aviator in the Army.

George H. Randall, Sr., well known retired lumberman, was found dead in his bed at the Imperial hotel, Bay City. Coroner H. M. Simon decided death was due to natural causes.

Names of all Wexford county men who died in service during the World War are wanted by the Cadillac post of the American Legion for a memorial tablet to be presented Armistice day by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Miss Sarah A. Hall, oldest daughter of Arthur A. Hall, registrar of the U. M., has accepted the position of chief actuary of the Ladies of the Maccabees, in the head office of the organization, at Port Huron. She will begin her duties on October 1.

Cut off for years from communication with the outside world—the telephone and telegraph are novelties there—the little village of Sheldrake, hidden by giant timberlands that encircle Lake Superior, is celebrating the introduction of the radio. For the first time in its history, which dates back to the time when Jesuit Fathers in their frail Indian canoes ventured their uncharted way across the water of Lake Superior, Sheldrake, situated at the northeastern extremity of the peninsula, is in close touch with the "great world outside."

The Kent county road commission has received from Philip B. Colgrave, of Hastings, president of the Michigan State Good Roads Association, approval of the dates, November 21, 22 and 23, for the annual convention of the organization to be held in Grand Rapids. It had been proposed that the convention should be postponed until next Spring. Sessions will be held at the Coliseum, where one of the largest exhibits of road machinery ever shown in the state will be on display.

Pontiac firemen have a new task. In addition to their regular duties at the fire halls where they work every other 24 hours, they have been asked by Chief Frank Kuhn to devote some of their spare time to an inspection of the business places and homes with the idea of eliminating fires. The firemen will look for fire hazards which are unnecessary and will suggest the removal of inflammable materials from basements or wherever they are discovered.

Joseph G. Gourlay, a teacher at the West Junior High school, at Lansing, who eloped last June with a 14-year-old girl pupil, was sentenced by Judge Leland W. Carr, in the Ingham Circuit Court, to serve from five to 10 years in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson. Gourlay, 44 years old, married and father of three children, pleaded guilty to a statutory offense. In his own defense, he declared the girl had told him that she was 18 years old.

M. D. Crawford, Eaton Rapids banker, has a break in the grape vine, two vines, a Concord (purple) and a Niagara (green) growing side by side. In some manner a bunch from each vine became entangled with the result that they have developed and grown firmly together.

Iroquois county has purchased from the owners the Indian burying ground adjoining the old Indian village site at Chicago lake. It has been tidied up, the houses over the graves removed, where they were found to be in decay, and the tract dedicated to the use of the public.

T. Leo Jones, Michigan district president of the United Mine Workers of America, has resigned to go on a vaudeville tour with a Saginaw orchestra, in which he plays a saxophone. He has been succeeded by George Toskey, St. Charles, district vice-president.

Members of the Sailors' union of the Great Lakes have voted for a strike. Announcement of this action came to William Donnelly, business manager of the Detroit local in a message from K. B. Nolan, of Chicago, secretary of the Sailors' union of the Great Lakes.

The open season for shooting game birds, ducks, coots, snipe, gallinules, geese and brant in Michigan opened Sept. 16. The season remains open until the first of the year. Hundreds of sportsmen throughout the state have taken out hunting licenses.

The Byron council has decided to allow pool rooms to operate in this village this year. A motion that all applications for license be rejected lost when H. C. Seaman, village president, broke a tie vote with his vote in favor of the pool rooms.

Dr. Hugh Kennedy, Highland Park, has been elected by the Bay View board of trustees as manager of the Bay View assembly and president of the associated schools, near Petoskey, and has accepted this position.

Milo Bott, 55 years old, who fired the first locomotive to make the complete trip from Owosso to Frankfort over the Ann Arbor road, died at Owosso Sept. 16. He had been employed by the Ann Arbor road for nearly 40 years.

Assistant Attorney O. L. Stalith, was appointed by Attorney General Merlin Wiley to represent the office in prosecution of the score of communists awaiting trial on a charge of criminal syndicalism in Berrien county.

M. H. Defoe and C. W. Ward were re-elected chairman and secretary respectively of the Eaton county Republican committee.

Announcement was made of a wage increase by the Copper Range Consolidated, Houghton, averaging 15 per cent for all employees of the Champion, Baltic and Trimountain mines and stamp mills.

Henry J. Cook, the oldest employee in point of service at the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia, has resigned as record clerk. He is the Democratic nominee for sheriff. Mr. Cook has been employed at the reformatory 31 years.

Grand Rapids furniture manufacturers are protesting individually and through their organization, the Furniture Manufacturers' Association, against the proposed 10 per cent duty on mahogany and other cabinet woods in the log.

John C. Buekema, former Muskegon newspaper man and for the last five years secretary of the Manistee chamber of commerce, has been named secretary-manager of the Muskegon chamber to succeed James E. Coed.

OPERATORS AND MINERS TO MEET

CONFERENCE CALLED TO DEVISE NEW WAY FOR WAGE BARGAINING.

TRY TO AVOID ANOTHER STRIKE

Negotiate New Wage Scale Before Expiration of Present Agreement, April 1, 1923.

Cleveland, O.—An invitation to all bituminous operators of the United States to meet here October 2 with representatives of the United Mine Workers of America to devise an entirely new machinery of wage bargaining to replace that of the central competitive field which broke down prior to the recent national coal strike has been sent out from here. The main object of the conference, it was explained, is to prevent another coal strike next April 1. The conference also initiated an investigation of the industry concurrently with that carried on by the fact finding commission to be named by President Harding.

The call was signed by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Thomas K. Maher, Cleveland coal operator, under authority given joint conference here last month, which subsequently resulted in the almost complete ending of the soft coal strike. Maher was chairman of this conference.

The invitation went to operators' associations and to important operators known to have signed the Cleveland agreement.

"It should be made plain," Maher said, "that all operators who signed the Cleveland agreement, or the supplementary contracts based on this agreement are expected, and cordially invited to attend. Notification through the press shall constitute notices of the meeting whether or not the operators or associations receive the invitations through the mail."

Several hundred operators are expected, Maher stated, from the soft coal fields in Ohio, Indiana, Western Pennsylvania, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and other trans-Mississippi states and part of central Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The agreement signed here last month by bituminous operators and unions provided that a meeting be called on October 2 to arrange for negotiating wage scales in the industry prior to the expiration of the present agreement April 1, 1923.

SHIPS RUSHED TO BEAT TARIFF

New York Customs House Collects $15,000,000 in One Week.

New York—The New York customs house ended one of the most exciting periods of its history at midnight, September 21 when the new tariff became effective. More than $15,000,000 in customs was collected from merchants and importers who rushed their goods through the last week.

When the tariff bill left the senate to go to the White House for the president's signature steamship men sent out appeals by wireless to ships at sea to bend every effort to reach port as soon as possible before the new tariff could become a law in order to save thousands of dollars in increased duties.

40-YEAR SENTENCE FOR DEPUTY

Convicted of Slaying Two Men After Quarrel Over Dog.

Asheville, N. C.—Walter P. Brooks, a former special deputy sheriff was sentenced last week to 40 years in the state penitentiary here following his conviction on charges of having slain Laurens West and Emory Lance, July 15, last.

Two sentences aggregating two score years were imposed.

The homicide occurred on the Billings estate during an altercation said to have originated over the killing of a dog belonging to one of the men who was slain.

HELPS TO STOP FLOW OF LIQUOR

Canada Places Agents in All Export Establishments.

Washington—The Canadian government is further co-operating with American authorities in stopping the flow of liquor into the United States has decided to place agents in all liquor export establishments in the dominion, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes has announced. The agents will endeavor to make sure that all liquor consignments from the export houses reach legitimate destinations.

Falls Through Window on Man.

New York—Falling from a second floor window of her home, at No. 247 East Fifty-seventh street, Miss Martha Barnes, 24, landed on the shoulders of Oliver Huber, of No. 427 East Fifty-seventh street, who was passing at that moment. Huber broke the young woman's fall and perhaps saved her from serious injury, but both were taken to Flower hospital suffering from contusions and lacerations. After being attended they were able to go to their homes.

I. C. C. Priority Order Lifted.

Washington—In a sweeping revision of its original orders giving priority to transportation of coal to certain specific classes of consignees, the interstate commerce commission lifted the ban against industrial establishments manufacturing non-essential and permits use of open top coal cars in transportation not only on coal but of road building material. The new order, which is designated as service order No. 25, went into effect at midnight, September 20, and supersedes order No. 24.

RAY CANNON

Items Of Interest in World's News

Cat Adopts Rat Family.

Paris—Throwing to the bow-wows every instant except that of a mother, Fif, a cat living in the Avenue Daumesnil, is feeding and educating a fine family of rats. It is not known how the family was acquired.

Baby Whistles Like Canary.

Youngstown, O.—Claim is made that Mervin, nine-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Heyman, of this city, can whistle like a canary. "He's been whistling since he was six months old," declared the proud father.

Finds Needle Inside Egg.

Middleport, O.—Harry Kaiser experienced narrow escape from swallowing a good-sized needle while eating a boiled egg for breakfast recently. The needle was seen just before Kaiser was about to swallow it. The egg was from his flock of hens. How the needle got inside the shell is a mystery.

13 Jap Suicides Found.

Nikko, Japan.—The bodies of 13 suicides were found in the basin of the Gegeon water falls in Nikko last week. Policemen and private detectives keep watch on the platform near the falls whence the waterfall drops to a deep ravine, but, in spite of this guard, many are still regarded as suicides. Foreign news is not regarded as reliable.

Arrangements have also been made to have the Eagle boats now at Jacksonville, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Galveston and St. Louis called into active service with a view to directing the annual cruise of the naval reserve men, who form their crews, to New Orleans.

A fleet of 12 hydroplanes will fly from Pensacola to New Orleans a few days before the naval show. A flotilla of sub-marines now en route to the East from Mare Island, Cal., also may be a feature of the naval display.

Pet Dog Saves Child's Life.

Rochester, N. H.—A pet dog of Elsie, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Horne, who live on a farm near Farmington, saved the life of its young mistress by driving away three enraged young helpers that had attacked the child. The helpers became enraged at a red hair ribbon the girl wore. She was badly bitten before the dog arrived.

Irish Rebels Out of Ammunition.

Belfast—The Dublin correspondent of the Belfast Telegraph declared in his dispatches to his newspaper that the Republicans are tiring of ambushing their enemies. They are beginning to feel the pinch for food and are short of ammunition. It is reported, he states, that De Valera has made and received certain overtures to the Free State government through an intermediary.

Fake Substitutes Spoil Business.

Chicago—Peter Hurst, horseradish grinder, asked the board of review to reduce his taxes on the plea that his business was failing because competitors were making a cheaper substitute from the roots of Indian turnips, Buffalo grass and burrshes. "I have made honest horseradish for two generations," Hurst declared, "and I can't compete with the fake goods." His taxes were reduced.

No Bonus at This Session.

Washington—The soldier bonus bill so far as the present session of congress is concerned is dead. The Senate killed it Sept. 20 when it voted to sustain President Harding's veto.

The vote was 44 to override the president, against 28 to sustain him, or four less than the two-thirds required to pass the measure over the veto.

Young became a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Louisville in the early days of the World war, having enlisted in the navy. He was then chosen as soloist for the famous band of John Philip Sousa and toured with the band on its remarkable recruiting campaigns.

Following his discharge from service, Young started on an active and successful career as a public singer. He is a member of the American Legion and Las Societe des 40 et 8 Chevaux.

After the Fakirs.

Persons who have suddenly acquired world records and a desire to help other disabled veterans by soliciting subscriptions to equally bogus magazines have so aroused the American Legion and municipal authorities at Syracuse, N. Y., that the two forces have combined against such fake soliciting. Anyone seeking a license to sell magazines is turned over to the Legion for investigation.

That Local Color.

Mrs. Timothy Hay—For heaven's sake! What are you going to do with that old wagon? And that harness grandfather had? Where on earth is the car? And what are you dressed like a tramp for? And that straw in your mouth? Are you going crazy?

Mr. T. Hay (reproachfully)—Maria, where's your wits? Don't you know that summer boarders are coming on the next train?—American Legion Weekly.

Letting Him Down Easy.

A rich man, lying on his death bed, called his chauffeur, who had been in his service for years, and said: "Ah, Sykes, I am going on a long and rugged journey, worse than ever you drove me."

"Well, sir," consoled the chauffeur,

"There's one comfort, down hill."

—American Legion Weekly.

Inevitable.

A hotel keeper at an old-fashioned crossroads house in Arkansas had a clerk who suddenly developed kleptomania.

The proprietor was at his wits' end, but because of the scarcity of available help and because his clerk was a model one except for this slight failing, he hesitated to part with him. Finally he solved the problem. Over the desk he placed this sign.

"Leave your valuables with the clerk. He'll get them anyway."—American Legion Weekly.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

CASSOWARY BIRD WAYS

"Yes," said the Cassowary, "it is true that I am a curious looking bird. In fact you might not even call me a bird when you first looked at me for I'm walking about the ground and I'm not flying above the ground."

"But I am a bird just as the ostrich family and others are birds, though they are to be seen on the ground, and not flying about in the air."

"I have been here in the zoo quite a while and I get along very well."

"I ate some sand just now, which surprised one of the visitors. But I often eat sand. In fact, I enjoy a certain amount of sand in my food. Just as I have heard some people say that they like to have their food seasoned with salt, so does the cassowary like to eat a certain amount of sand."

"Just what that amount is I couldn't tell you. I never measured the amount of sand I ate. But, then, I don't suppose people measure the amount of salt they eat, so that is fair enough."

"My home used to be in an island known as the Cassowary Island. An excellent name it was for the island, too."

"That island is one of the islands of New Britain, east of New Guinea."

"I couldn't point that out to you on the map, but that is where they say I came from, so I suppose they know."

"Anyhow, there were lots of cassowaries in the home island, and there is only one other here. That is a young cassowary."

"You'll see him down yonder. He is only eighteen months old. He wasn't born here, but was brought here as a young cassowary child."

"Cassowaries aren't born in the zoo. It is enough of an honor to a zoo that they will be brought here and will lend interest to the zoo by their presence."

"A bit conceited, eh? Well, now and again I feel a little superior and a little like showing that I'm not going to be taken advantage of—I'm not."

"My home was in a great, thick jungle. Doesn't that sound interesting? There we lived in the wonderful underbrush."

"You will notice that I have a horny, hard kind of a beak upon my head?"

"It protects our heads from injury or harm, as we go through the underbrush."

"Our helmets never grow out of fashion. We're not like people in that way who're always changing hats with the styles."

"And people's hats look shabby after a bit or faded by the sun. But

"Neighbor Curassow is Much Smaller."

not our helmets. Oh, no, we have helmets worth having."

"But, of course, the great advantage about them is that they're of so much protection to us."

"We like lettuce and bread and fruit and bananas in the way of food."

"We do not care for meat."

"Now, sometimes Neighbor Curassow will eat a little meat. But we never will."

"Neighbor Curassow is much smaller than I am. Do you like his red beak?"

"Of course one can't expect so much of a smaller creature, and so, you see, he hasn't the sense to keep to a little fruit and vegetable diet as I do."

"But, then, people eat meat, don't they. Well, I must be careful what I say, then, about meat eating."

"The young curassow, over there, a real little zoo curassow, is wilder than those who were brought here from their own curassow home."

"The ones who were brought here are really quite tame."

"Still, the little wild one is waiting now. Do you hear him? A nice whistle he has, hasn't he?"

"But I mustn't tell you any more about myself and neighbors, for you might forget if I told you too much."

"Come again and call for me, and my keeper will translate my story into your language with an account of what I do and what I eat and how my disposition has been of late, and of such interesting matters."

"Good-by. The cassowary politely says good-by and is sorry you won't join him in a little afternoon meal of sand!"

Where They Belong.
Teacher (to class in natural history)—What kind of birds are frequently kept in captivity?

Tommy—Jail birds—Christian Sun.

A Pointed Question.
Billy, age five, noticed a picture of "Darby and Joan" and asked who they were. Mother told him they were two who never quarreled or were never cross with each other. After a moment's reflection he said: "Do you suppose there are people like that?"—In-dianapolis News.

Baby Massachusetts Looms.
Massachusetts looms in one year produce woolens enough to make a blanket one mile long and thirty-seven miles wide.

Pretty Things that are made at Home

DAILY DAIRY

IMPORTANT POINTS IN COWS

Missouri Expert Tells Just What to Look for in Buying High Producing Cattle.

"The man does not live who can pick the good cows from the poor ones without ever making a mistake," says W. W. Swett, of the Missouri College of Agriculture. "Even the best judges sometimes make a mistake. But there are certain points about the dairy cow that are almost always associated with high production."

The udder should be deep, wide and long with good attachment. It should be evenly developed, level on the floor and equipped with teats of good and uniform size, symmetrically placed. It should also be soft and pliable, indicating that it consists of secreting cells rather than flesh.

A good set of milk veins indicates that the udder is well supplied with blood. Long, crooked milk veins entering large wells or openings through the body wall are usually associated with high production.

A cow cannot be a maximum and continuous producer unless she has a strong constitution. Vitality and strength of constitution are indicated by broad, open nostril, and a chest which is deep and broad.

Food capacity is essential. In order to produce heavily a cow must consume large quantities of feed and water. A barrel which is long, broad and deep indicates a large capacity

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is employed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to girdle and caught up in tiers about the skirt. The skirt is ankle length but the straps in the lowest tier fall to the instep.

The girdle of self-material is em-

ployed.

Change before the fashions will. Long and trailing sashes and panels—sleeves that are merely floating drapery, veils and long earrings are the mode because they suit the mood of their wearers.

There is every reason to be satisfied with things as they are in the world of fashion, for women have every opportunity to be beautifully as well as fashionably dressed this season. The styles are lovely and are also refined—a consummation devoutly to be wished. After so much "jazzing" in the near past it is refreshing to study the new things. Among them appears the delightful afternoon costume, shown herewith—made of heavy brown crepe. It is a simple affair with bodice bloated at the low waistline and wide-draped sleeves ending in points and confined at the wrist. The popular triumphing of loose straps has been ingeniously managed on it, falling free from neck to gird

Sick Room Supplies:

Miller Surgeon Grade Rubber Goods.
Hot Water Bottles.
Syringes.
Face Bags.
Rubber Bandages.
Rubber Gloves.
Sheeting.
Oiled Silk.

CENTRAL DRUG STORE

CHRIS W OLSEN, Prop'r
PHONE NO. 1. THE NYAL STORE

CRAWFORD AVALANCHE
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Year ..... $2.00
Six Months ..... 1.00
Outside of Crawford county and Roscommon, per year ..... $2.50

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Grayling, Mich., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

O. P. SCHUMANN, Editor and Proprietor

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1928.

TRUDEAU-FEHR.

A quiet wedding ceremony was read Tuesday evening by Rev. Fr. A. O. Bosler that united in marriage Miss Pauline Fehr, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Charles C. Fehr and Mr. Herbert B. Trudeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Trudeau of this city. The bride was charming in a navy blue suit and was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Gertrude Trudeau, who also wore a pretty navy blue suit. Both wore hats to match.

After the ceremony, a wedding lunch was served at the home of the Postoffice, Grayling, Mich., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

O. P. SCHUMANN, Editor and Proprietor

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1928.

SPECIAL Saturday Prices

Picnic Hams, per lb. . . . .	18c
Economy Bacon, per lb. . . . .	17c
Cream Cheese, per lb. . . . .	30c
Home Smoked Bacon, per lb. . . . .	30c
Armour's Star Ham, whole or halves, per lb. . . . .	35c
Boneless Corn Beef, per lb. . . . .	18c
Woodlawn Oleo, per lb. . . . .	22c

Vulcanizing We can repair your Cords

Goodyear and Firestone ... Tires....

Hans R. Nelson
South Side.

congratulation and best wishes for their future happiness. After their return from their wedding trip they will be at home to their friends at the home of Mrs. Trudeau's parents, where they will take up their abode for the winter.

LOCAL NEWS

Have your prescriptions filled at the Central Drug Store.

Mrs. Ralph Hanna of Lansing is visiting Mr. Hanna here.

Ernest Duvall left for Monroe yesterday to visit his father who has been ill.

C. M. Morfit was called to Wisconsin Tuesday in the interest of the DuPont company.

Everett Buchanan has been seriously ill at the home of Frank Woodruff in Bay City.

Almer Smith, who is attending High School in East Jordan visited at his home here over Sunday.

Grayling has a juvenile band that has started out with 19 pieces. They had their first rehearsal Monday night.

Mrs. Frank Whipple left Tuesday night for Midland to be in attendance at the annual convention of the Ladies National League.

FLAPPER walk and say it while dancing on Columbia records.

Olaf Sorenson & Sons.

Music Department.

Supt. and Mrs. B. E. Smith, Mrs. L. J. Kras, Mrs. Eugene Kendrick and Mrs. Holger Hanson attended a Red Cross meeting at Cadillac last Friday.

Little George Ewalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ewalt has been carrying his hand in a bandage, it having become infected as the result of getting a sliver in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ostrander and son Glen of Hillman motored to Grayling Friday and paid a visit to the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Ostrander and other relatives.

Mrs. Ben Landsberg and daughter, Jillian and Mrs. Clarence Brown went to West Branch Tuesday and the latter went on to Bay City the following day to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodruff.

Frank Whipple and son-in-law Russell Cripps motored over to Mio last Sunday and on their return were accompanied by the latter's mother, Mrs. Jacobs Cripps, who is spending the week here visiting her son and family.

Friday afternoon October 6th will be the date of the next meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Michelson Memorial church. Will all members please try and be present, as it will be necessary to re-elect new officers at the meeting.

Miss Margaret Richards of Frederic has entered the Grayling schools, and is making her home with her grandmother, Mrs. David White. The Richards family having moved onto the Johnson farm in Frederic.

Harold Phalen, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Phalen for a week returned Saturday to Detroit. Also Mr. Phalen returned home a week ago but will remain here only for an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blair returned last Friday having gone on a most pleasant motor trip through the southern part of the state visiting relatives and old friends formerly of Grayling. They visited Lansing, Okemos, Rochester, Owosso, Flint and Saginaw.

Mrs. Samuel Rasmussen of Detroit arrived Saturday to spend a couple of weeks visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Rasmus Rasmussen. The former returned the first part of last week from New York City, where she had visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell for several weeks.

John Barnes of this city was united in marriage to Mrs. Eulah McKim of Decatur, Ill., at the latter place, Thursday of last week. The bride is a niece of Mrs. C. M. Dowker of this city, and the newlyweds are expected to come to Grayling soon for a visit at the Dowker home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fink have been spending the past few days with Grayling friends, coming to look after their interests at their new farm home in Maple Forest township which is nearing completion. On leaving here Mr. and Mrs. Fink will go to Columbus, Ohio, for the winter, after having spent the summer in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Cameron Game and daughter, Barbara, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Case and children Jean and Roger left Friday for Marion, where Saturday accompanied by Mrs. Game's mother, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson they went to Lansing to be gone for about ten days. Mrs. Case and children are visiting Mr. Case's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Case, who were at one time residents of Grayling.

The Knights of Columbus postponed their meeting from Thursday evening of last week to this Thursday evening, when election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. Next Saturday evening installation of officers will take place at the K. of C. club rooms, previous to which a pot luck dinner will be enjoyed by the ladies of the Altar society, the K. of C. members and their families.

As a fitting farewell for Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Doty and family, who are leaving for their new home in Caro where the former is to occupy the Methodist Episcopal church pulpit for the coming year, a parting reception was given in their honor Tuesday night at the Michelson Memorial church. Nearly a hundred friends and members of the church gathered to spend one more social evening in their company. In the receiving line were officials of the church and their wives and husbands. After the usual formalities of such an occasion, Mrs. Roy Milnes delighted the company by singing a solo. To remind Mr. and Mrs. Doty of the many friends in Grayling a beautiful framed picture was given them, the presentation being made by Mr. Melvin A. Bates, on behalf of the donors. It was a fine copy of Christ at Emmaus with two of his apostles, following the resurrection. The pastor and his family are leaving today for their new home and carry with them many warm friendships and well wishes of the people of Grayling.

O. A. Hilton, who came to Grayling a year ago establishing a furniture store in this city, dealing in new and used furniture has sold out and left Tuesday for Gaylord. His business was located in the Annex building on Norway street, two blocks from Michigan avenue, and Mr. Hilton was not suited with the location, and as he could not secure a location in the business district, decided to quit. Mr. Hilton worked up a fine trade during his short stay here; he was a fine fellow to do business with and being honest and square in his dealings won the confidence and good will of many of our people. Mr. Hilton has secured a position as traveling salesman for a furniture firm, with territory in the northern part of the state. Mrs. Hilton has gone to Adrian to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daniels until Mr. Hilton gets located. Mr. Hilton said he liked the town and people, and appreciated very much the patronage that was accorded him. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton made many warm friends in Grayling who regret to have them leave.

Hear the last Columbia Dance records now on sale.

Olaf Sorenson & Sons.

Music Department.

Mrs. Andrew Brown returned home Saturday from a pleasant three weeks visit in Columbiaville, Mich.

Clarence Charon is driving a new Ford Coupe.

Bran-new electric light fixtures have been installed in the Michigan Central depot.

Mrs. Benton Jorgenson was called to Detroit the fore part of last week owing to the illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Roblin attended the funeral of Geo. Randall in Bay City last week returning home Sunday morning.

Marshmallow and "weenie" roasts along the banks of the Au Sable are being enjoyed by pleasure-seekers these balmy evenings.

Leon LaMotte has returned to Detroit leaving his family here for a longer visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. Louis LaMotte, Sr.

Clair Cameron left Friday for Sigma where he will teach in the schools there. Sigma has just finished erecting a new school building.

There will be a dance in the Opera House in Frederic, Saturday evening, September 30th for the benefit of the Basket ball team. All are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith and children, Jess Smith, Misses Dora Morency and Lillian Smith enjoyed a motor trip to Petoskey and Charlevoix Sunday.

Mrs. Joseph Kochanowski and two youngest children left Saturday to spend a couple of weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Richardson and family of Lansing.

Mrs. Anthony Trudeau, Sr., who has been spending a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur and family in Detroit returned home Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Esbern J. Olson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Esbern John, at Mercy Hospital last Friday morning. The little boy tipped the scales at 10 pounds.

Miss Beatrice Ketzebeck and Mr. Floyd Libcke of Gaylord were guests last Sunday at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ketzebeck and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Doroh.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Joynt, Misses Hattie Joynt and Charlotte Fritz of Traverse City motored to Grayling to spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Connine. Mrs. Joynt is a sister of Mrs. Connine.

Carl Doroh is taking a couple of weeks vacation from his duties as clerk in the Grayling Mercantile Co. store.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Doroh are moving into the John Isenauer house on Villas street.

Schram's Ramblers who just finished the season playing at Collen's Inn at Lake Margerthe are at Wolverine this week during the Cheboygan county fair, furnishing music each evening for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rasmussen returned home Tuesday afternoon from a most enjoyable visit with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rasmussen who reside at Monroe. They were gone about five weeks.

Miss Margaret Richards of Frederic has entered the Grayling schools, and is making her home with her grandmother, Mrs. David White. The Richards family having moved onto the Johnson farm in Frederic.

Harold Phalen, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Phalen for a week returned Saturday to Detroit. Also Mr. Phalen returned home a week ago but will remain here only for an indefinite time.

To celebrate little Clyde Borchers' fifth birthday we had cake and watermelon.

We can't help but wonder where our teacher learned to play base ball.

Special On

LADIES COATS

We have just received a consignment of Ladies Coats to place on sale up to October 5. In the lot there are:

Fifty Beautiful Coats

Ranging in prices from $15.00 up to $50.00.

These are the very latest styles and colors right from the mills of one of the largest New York manufacturers. Everyone is invited to come in and look them over. You can save money if you need a coat.

Max Landsberg.

Land Clearing Demonstration.

The H. S. girls are talking of organizing a club. Let's act not talk.

BEAVER CREEK SCHOOL NOTES.

Calla Brott and Dorothy Cook were neither absent or tardy this month.

The second and third grades made a Cinderella poster last week.

The seventh and eighth grades are beginning work on European scrap books.

The grades have made spelling books for the October month.

Our visitors for the month were Earne Hlavac, Mrs. Borchers and Mrs. Hans Neiderer.

To celebrate little Clyde Borchers' fifth birthday we had cake and watermelon.

We can't help but wonder where our teacher learned to play base ball.

MRS. HUBBARD HEAD—OBITUARY.

Urville L. Davis was born Oct. 19, 1893 at Fremont, Steuben Co., New York, where her childhood and young womanhood were spent. At an early age she united with the First Day Adventist Church, and remained a member until her death. At the age of twenty-two she was united in marriage to Bloomer Miller, also of Fremont, and to them was born one child, L. J. Miller. During the third year of their marriage Mr. Miller was stricken with pneumonia and died. Mrs. Miller lived on in Fremont until 1865 when she again married; this time to Hubbard Head, also of Fremont. Ten years later she came, with her husband and children, of whom she now had four, to Michigan, reaching Roscommon May 5th, 1875. The family resided in that village for about a year when Mr. Head located on a homestead about six miles northeast from there. Bravely Mrs. Head faced all the hardships of a pioneer's life in what was then a wilderness, raising her children to be useful men and women, and helping and cheering her husband on in his task of wresting a living and fortune from the wilderness. Together they worked, together they succeeded until at the close of a long and successful career, Mr. Head was summoned across the border June 6th, 1917. Since then Mrs. Head has, in her old age, been like a lost child, restless everywhere, satisfied nowhere, although everything in their power has been done for her comfort and happiness by her children. For several years past she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. James Williams, where at last the great rest came to her on Monday evening, September 18, 1922. She was beloved by her children, respected and loved by many friends.

She leaves to mourn her one brother, L. A. Davis of Fremont, New York, and three children, L. J. Miller of Yale, Mrs. James Williams of South Branch Township, and Elmer Head of Pontiac. One daughter, Alta, (Mrs. William Fairbairn, Sr.) preceded her into the great beyond in 1909. Besides her brother and children, she leaves fourteen grandchildren and twenty-two great grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the Williams home on Tuesday, Sept. 21st. Services were conducted by Reverend Copeland of West Branch, and the remains were laid to rest beside those of her husband in Pioneer cemetery.

APPRECIATION.

Having received my certificate of nomination for sheriff on the democratic ticket, I wish to thank the voters of Crawford County for their support. If elected to the office of sheriff, I promise you I shall make the sheriff's office one of a clean administration.

Thanking all voters for their support in the coming election for sheriff.

Yours for real service,

Peter F. Jorgenson.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many friends for their help and sympathy in our recent bereavement; also for the beautiful flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Miller,
Mr. and Mrs. James Williams,
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Head and the grandchildren.

A. PRONOUNCED SUCCESS.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints, both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal.

$2.00 per treatment. Treatments for ladies and gentlemen.

Better Than Pills For Liver Ills.

You can't feel so good but what NR will make you feel better.

Get a 25c. Box.</p

Feed them RAT-NIP —and Not a Rat Can Escape

If there are rats about your premises why not let us send you a tube of the new and remarkably effective discovery, Rat-Nip? The great trouble with rat poisons is to get all rats to eat them. Rat-Nip is just as attractive to rats as Catnip is to cats and they all succumb to it, even the wily, old fellows. One or two Rat-Nip feasts and every rat will positively be exterminated from house, store, barn, stable or garage. Not one will remain.

Rat-Nip is safe, easy and clean to handle. It is put up in neat, collapsible, metal tubes and can be readily squeezed out, without coming in contact with the hands or anything else. One tube goes a long way. Price 30 cents.

Come in and look over our line of goods. We hope to have the pleasure of seeing you soon.

LOCAL NEWS

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1924.

Prescriptions carefully compounded.
Central Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tumble entertained several guests at dinner at the Shopenagon Inn Sunday afternoon.

Century certified music, 15 cents per copy.
Olaf Sorenson & Sons,
Music Department.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hanson returned Saturday afternoon from Detroit after having spent three weeks visiting in that city.

Miss Pansy Losey of Grand Rapids has been spending the past two weeks a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Grover of Riverview. Miss Losey with her parents were former residents of Grayling.

Mrs. J. E. Fletcher, George A. Schable and family and Mrs. Lloyd Hahn and little daughter returned home the first part of last week from a pleasant visit at their former home in Lansing and other places.

Eastman Kodaks and films.
Central Drug Store.

Mrs. Janette Harris and daughter, who have been visiting relatives in Ohio returned home Saturday.

Harvey Trudo, the Gaylord baker purchased a fine Buick Six yesterday at the Otsego garage.—Otsego Herald-Times.

Piano Solos, violin solos, duets, etc.
Century music 15 cents per copy.
Olaf Sorenson & Sons,
Music Department.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Keyport and Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Canfield entertained a number of ladies and gentlemen at dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Keyport.

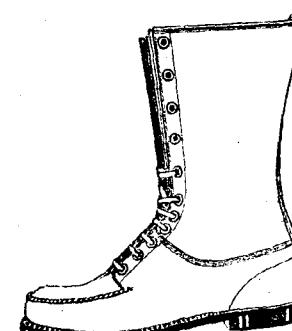

John Scialabba of Lansing, brother of George Schable, who has been visiting at the home of his brother the past week returned home Monday. He was accompanied home by Mr. William Barnes, a brother of Mrs. J. E. Fletcher, who went to Lansing for a visit.

Several ladies and gentlemen enjoyed an evening of "500" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Friday evening. Mrs. Frank Barnes and Mrs. M. R. Crowell won the ladies' prizes and Herbert Goeth and Henry Trudo the gentlemen's prizes. A delicious lunch was served.

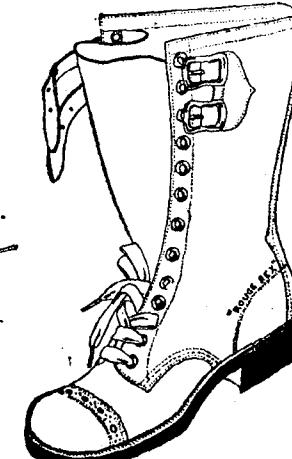

The most valuable habit you can acquire in shopping is that of comparison.
Sorenson Bros.

For Men, Women Boys and Girls

High-Top Hunting and Outing Shoes

I have now in stock the best and most complete line of high top hunting and outing shoes that ever was in the city at prices that are 25 to 50% less than you can buy the same thing in cities. I also have a complete line of light weight all rubber hunting shoes.

Greases and oil carried in stock. Whale Amber, Miller's Grease, Viscol Dri-Foot and Neads Foot oil, all are to keep the feet dry and the shoes soft and pliable.

Come in and get yours while the stock is complete.

E. J. OLSON

Exclusive Dealer for:
Edmond Foot-Fitters,
Converse Rubber Footwear,
Bass Shoe Packs,
Chippewa Hunting Shoes.

"Good time dancing party" at Temple Saturday night.

If you want to buy a ladies coat at the right price, go to Max Landsberg's and look over the exceptionally nice line he has on display.

Best music dealers sell Century music, 15 cents per copy.
Olaf Sorenson & Sons,
Music Department.

Euclid Magneau left the fore part of the week for Petoskey after assisting in the local A. & P. Co. store for several weeks.

Waltzes, two-steps and fox-trots—don't fail to dance to "Kitten on the Keys" at the Temple theatre dance next Saturday.

An 11 1/2 pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Feidhauer Wednesday, September 20. Donald Paul is the little boy's name.

The regular monthly meeting of the Danish Ladies Aid society was held yesterday afternoon, at Danielson hall, and was entertained by Mrs. Josephine McLeod.

Mrs. Robert Giffin and son Billy left Tuesday morning for Lewiston to visit her parents, who reside there. Mr. Giffin left for Detroit Sunday night to seek employment.

Gaylord High school have organized their basket ball team and in their school notes appear a number of rules which those who wish to play on the team will have to adhere to.

A pot luck dinner will be given at the K. of C. club rooms Saturday evening, September 30 at 6:00 for the Altar Society members and the K. of C. members and their families.

Mrs. Francis Tetu returned Friday from West Branch where she was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith for a couple of weeks, going in time to attend the County fair held there.

Mrs. and Mrs. James Jorgenson, Mrs. Jens Eilemon, and Mr. and Mrs. Elf Rasmussen left early this morning by auto for Detroit to attend the Kredsmode of the Danish-Lutheran church held there Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1st.

There will be no services in the Danish-Lutheran church next Sunday on account of the pastor, Rev. Kjolhede, being absent attending Kredsmode in Detroit. Rev. and Mrs. Kjolhede are leaving today to be in attendance at the convention.

William Brown of Lansing arrived Saturday for a visit with his brother James Brown and family. Mrs. Thomas Brown, who had been spending a couple of weeks visiting at the home of her son James returned Saturday to her home in Lansing.

A Masonic school of instruction will be held at Roscommon Tuesday night of next week. Lodges from West Branch, Rose City and Grayling are expected to be represented at the school. Quite a number from Grayling are planning to be in attendance.

Marshall Rex, six months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Madison, passed away at their home in Johannesburg on Friday September 15, following an illness of pneumonia that developed from whooping cough. Grayling relatives were in attendance at the funeral.

Miss Elsa Hemmingson left Friday for Grand Rapids, where she was being entertained by a party of delegates and went on to Chicago to attend the annual convention of the Danish Sisterhood of America. Mrs. Hemmingson was chosen as a delegate from the local order of the Sisterhood.

Grayling county boasts of a couple of big Apple Orchard projects a gentleman from Indianapolis purasing several hundred acres of land in Bagley township to clear and plant trees and two gentlemen from Ann Arbor purchasing the land for the other, the land located south of Salling.

Mrs. Charles Canfield, a hostess to twenty-five ladies at her party Saturday afternoon at her cottage at Lake Margrethe. The rooms were beautifully decorated with the autumn tinted leaves and yellow marigolds. Everyone spent a most enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. Carl Mickelson held the highest score.

E. R. Clark, Monday morning while at the old mill of Salling Hanson Co., was struck in the stomach by a block of wood that flew from the trimming saw. Mr. Clark was immediately taken to Mercy hospital, where at first the injury was thought to be serious, but he is getting along so nicely that he will be able to leave the hospital today.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Trudeau motor-ed over to Clare last Sunday to bid good-bye to the Gates family, who expect to leave the latter part of this week to spend the winter in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Gates have bought a "speed-wagon" with house built on it, fully furnished and equipped, which will travel through the south in. They have sold their photo studio in Clare and probably will not return there.

A wedding of interest to Grayling people is that of Miss Helen Cornwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Cornwell of Sault Ste. Marie, and Mr. Charles A. Coryell of Bay City, that took place in Saginaw Saturday evening, Sept. 23. Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell and daughter have many friends in Grayling. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanson were in attendance at the wedding.

Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Palmer are enjoying having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Barlow of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Barlow motored through leaving Chicago Monday morning and arriving here early yesterday afternoon. They are the parents of Mrs. L. C. McConnell of Chicago, who before her marriage was Miss Ruth Barlow, and made her home with Dr. and Mrs. Palmer for many years and graduated from the Grayling schools. Mr. and Mrs. Barlow have made frequent visits to Grayling although their last visit was several years ago.

The marriage of Charles H. Abbott of West Branch to Miss Ula Mae Shier of Wolverine was solemnized quietly at the parsonage of the Central Methodist Episcopal church of Lansing at five o'clock Thursday afternoon, September 21, the Reverend W. C. Chapman, associate pastor of the church officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. Following the ceremony a wedding party was entertained at dinner by Miss Vera L. Shier, sister of the bride, and Mrs. E. E. Tomlinson at the home of the latter at 213 South Pine Street. The couple left on an early evening train for Grand Rapids. After a short visit in that city they will spend a week at the P. J. McKinnon cottage at Topinaboo. Mr. and Mrs. Abbott will make their future residence in the former T. S. Glenn house in West Branch.

A Superb display of Men's and Young Men's

O'Coats

—full, roomy coats, belted models in the new light shades.

Come in and see them, Men,

$15, $18, $25, $30,
$35 and up

Ladies', Children's and Misses'

Coats

—for winter. A selection worth seeing —the new styles,
materials, and colors, in all sizes.

2429

Kuppenheimer GOOD CLOTHES

Watch and Wait

—for details, next week, in this paper, of our Big Blanket Sale
Several hundred pairs of Cotton and Wool Blankets, also the famous Nashua Wool-Nap Blankets, will be placed on sale at a big saving.

Grayling Mercantile Co. The Quality Store

Life is something else besides living.

We carry 1200 different selections of Century Certified music, 15 cents per copy.

Olaf Sorenson & Sons,
Music Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Smith and son have come to Grayling from Bay City to take up their residence. The family have moved into the Clark house on Cedar street, formerly the McElroy property. Mr. Smith is employed as assistant foreman in the railway repair department of the M. C. R. R.

Mrs. Frank Barnes and son William Wylie left Monday night for Battle Creek to take up their residence. Miss Mabelle Wylie left last week in time to enter school there. William Clayboll and family who recently came here from Decatur, Ill., will occupy the house on Ionic street vacated by the Barnes family. The Clayboll family have been visiting Mrs. Clayboll's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Dowler since coming here.

Last Thursday afternoon marked the opening meeting of the season of the Altar society of St. Mary's church. Mrs. J. W. Letzkuus opening her home to the ladies. The annual election of officers took place. Mrs. Holger F. Petersen was elected president to succeed Mrs. J. W. Letzkuus. Mrs. Thomas Cassidy, vice president to succeed Mrs. Angus McPhee, and Mrs. Walter Nadeau to succeed Mrs. Frank Annett as secretary-treasurer, after the afternoon was taken care of the ladies enjoyed a delicious lunch served by Mrs. Letzkuus. The opening meeting of the year was a very pleasant one.

Miss Laura Thompson of Johannesburg spent Sunday with Grayling friends.

The dance at the Temple theatre Saturday is for young and old, waltzes, two-steps, and fox-trots.

Clark's orchestra played for a dancing party in Lewiston Saturday night. A few from Grayling took in the party motorizing up.

Last Thursday afternoon marked the opening meeting of the season of the Altar society of St. Mary's church. Mrs. J. W. Letzkuus opening her home to the ladies. The annual election of officers took place. Mrs. Holger F. Petersen was elected president to succeed Mrs. J. W. Letzkuus. Mrs. Thomas Cassidy, vice president to succeed Mrs. Angus McPhee, and Mrs. Walter Nadeau to succeed Mrs. Frank Annett as secretary-treasurer, after the afternoon was taken care of the ladies enjoyed a delicious lunch served by Mrs. Letzkuus. The opening meeting of the year was a very pleasant one.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorane Sparkes and little son Jack Bedford returned home Tuesday, after a ten days absence. Mrs. Sparkes and baby were visiting her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Jerome and family in Pontiac, while Mr. Sparkes was in Galesburg, Ill., visiting his mother, Mrs. Matilda Sparkes who is seriously ill there. Mr. Sparkes has resumed his duties as book-keeper at the Bank of Grayling.

Mr. Willis H. Ketzebeck, Mrs. John Matthiesen and Mrs. Prudence Marshall left Tuesday for Midland to attend the national convention of the National League of Veterans and Sons and Daughters National League. The convention was held yesterday and continued over today, and Mrs. Ketzebeck is the chosen delegate from the local order of the L. N. L. Mr. John Matthiesen is also in attendance at the convention as a delegate from the local camp N. L. V. S. No. 33.

*****WE ORIGINATE—NOT IMITATE*****

We're Off

Now to better times and buying powers. Our dollar can now reach farther than at any time for years. This bulletin of savings to wise car owners mean dollars value for dollars spent.

Glass Rear Curtain lights for Ford cars, set of three with metal frames, one week only..... 1.19

Motor Driver Horn, fits on any car with six volt battery, $6.00 value..... 3.75

17 inch steering wheels for Ford cars, $3.75 value, at real saving..... 2.79

Four Cell Hot Shots for starting and lighting, saves much hard labor on cool mornings, $2.50 val. spec. 1.99

Horn Button for top of steering wheel, fits many cars..... 49c

Get a new set of spark plugs for your car, it will start easier these cool days. All at cut prices.

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD

GRAYLING BOOSTER TAGS
79c Pair GRAYLING 79c Pair

Every car owner in Grayling should have a pair on his car. Fastens on license plate.

The Latest Out

30c Each BABY LINCOLN 30c Each

Baby Lincoln plates for Ford's, something new, boost your car.

Be one of the first to have them.

Benton's Auto Supply

Benton Jorgenson, Prop'r.

OPEN EVENINGS—SUNDAY A.M.

New Store Opposite Court House. Grayling.

SORENSEN BROTHERS

The Home Of Dependable Furniture.

These prices stand good until our next bulletin is issued next week.

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD

THE CROSS-CUT

By Courtney Ryley Cooper

Copyright by Little, Brown & Co.

"OR I'LL SHOOT."

SYNOPSIS.—At Thornton Fairchild's death his son Robert learns there has been a dark period in his father's life which for almost thirty years had caused him to keep secret. Robert is hinted at in a document left by the elder Fairchild, which also informs Robert he is now owner of a mining claim in Colorado, and advising him to see Henry Beaman, a lawyer. Beaman tells Robert his claim is in the hands of the Orlad, thirty-eight miles from Denver. He also warns him against a certain man, "Squint" Rodaine, his father's enemy. Robert decides to go to Orlad.

On the road to Orlad from Denver Fairchild assists a girl apparently in a frenzied haste to change the name on her auto. When she has left, the sheriff and a posse appear.

Fairchild, bewildered, misleads them as to the direction the girl had taken. At Orlad Fairchild is warmly greeted by "Mother" Harry, according to legend, for his father's sake.

From Mother Howard Fairchild learns something of the mystery connected with the disappearance of "Sister" Larsen, his father's co-worker in the mine. He meets the girl and is about to reveal her identity. She is Anita Richmond, Judge Richmond's daughter.

Visiting his claim, Fairchild is shadowed by a man he recognizes from descriptions as "Squint" Rodaine. Back in Orlad, his father's old friend, Harry, a Cornishman, summoned from England by Beaman to help Fairchild, hauls him with joy. The pair find the mine flooded and have not sufficient funds to have it pumped dry.

Lured in the dark "Squint" Rodaine and his practically-sane partner, Harry, are captured and taken to the mine.

Harry is shot and killed. Fairchild learns that Judge Richmond is dying, and that he and Anita are in the power of the Rodaines. They begin, as partners, to work the mine. In their hearts, however, Fairchild and his boy buried by a cave-in which destroyed the mine.

CHAPTER IX—Continued.

From far away the drone of the caller sounded in a voice familiar, and Fairchild looked up to see the narrow-eyed, scarred face of Squint Rodaine, who was officiating at the wheel. He lost interest in the game; backhandedly he placed the buttons on their squares as the numbers were shouted, finally to brush them all aside and desert the game. His hatred of the Rodaines had grown to a point where he could enjoy nothing with which they were connected, where he despised everything with which they had the remotest affiliation—excepting, of course, one person. And as he rose, Fairchild saw that she was just entering the dance hall.

Only a moment he hesitated. Maurice Rodaine, attired in a mafne frock suit and the inevitable accompanying beaver, had stopped to talk to someone at the door. She stood alone, looking about the hall, laughing and nodding—and then she looked at him. Fairchild did not want.

From the platform at the end of the big room the fiddles had begun to squeak, and the caller was shouting his announcements. Couples began to line up on the floor. The caller's voice grew louder:

"One more couple—then the dance starts. One more couple, lady in a gent! One more!"

"Please—" Robert Fairchild had reached her and was holding forth his hand. She looked up in half surprise, then demurred.

"But I don't know these old dances."

"Neither do I—or any other, for that matter," he confessed with sudden boldness. "But does that make any difference? Please!"

She glanced quickly toward the door. Maurice Rodaine had still been talking, and Fairchild saw a little gleam come into her eyes—the gleam that shows when a woman decides to make some one pay for rudeness.

Fairchild's hand was still extended. Again Anita Richmond glanced toward the door, chucked to herself while Fairchild watched the dimples that the merriment caused, and then—Fairchild forgot the fact that he was wearing holmwood shoes and that his clothes were worn and old... He was going forward to take his place on the dance floor, and she was beside him.

Some way, as through a haze, he saw her. Some way he realized that now and then his hand touched hers, and that once, as they whirled about the room, in obedience to the monarch in the fiddler's rostrum, his arm was about her waist, and her head touching his shoulder. It made little difference whether the dance calls were obeyed after that. Fairchild was making up for all the years he had plodded, all the years in which he had known nothing but a slow, grubbing life, living them all again and rightly, in the few wild moments of a dance.

The music ended, and laughing they returned to the side of the hall. Out of the haze he heard words, and knew instinctively that they were his own: "Will—will you dance with me again tonight?"

"Squint!" she chided.

"But will you?"

For just a moment her eyes grew serious.

"Did you ever realize that we've never been introduced?"

Fairchild was finding more conversation than he ever had believed possible.

"No—but I realize that I don't care—if you'll forgive it. I believe that I'm a gentleman."

"So do I—or I wouldn't have danced with you."

"Then please—" Pardon me," she had said a hand on his arm for just a moment, then hurried away. Fairchild saw that she was approaching young Rodaine, scowling in the background. That person shot an angry remark at her as she approached and followed it with strenuous denunciations. Fairchild knew the reason, "Jealousy! Couples, running from the dance floor, jostled mountain side. And back came the answer:

"It's Doc Mason's. Must have been stolen. Doc was at the dance."

"I guess that settles it." The officer reached for his hip pocket. "Stick out your hands, Harry, while I put the cuffs on them."

"But 'ow in bloody 'ell 'ave I been doing anything when I've been up 'ere working on the chiv wheel? 'Ow—?"

"They say you held up the dance tonight and robbed us," Fairchild cut in. Harry's face lost its surprised look to give way to a glance of keen questioning.

"And do you say it?"

"I most certainly do not. The identification was given by that honorable person known as Mr. Maurice Rodaine."

"Oh! One thief identifying another!"

"Sheriff!" Again the voice from below.

"We've found a cache down here. Must have been made in a hurry—two new revolvers, bullets, a mask, a couple of new handkerchiefs and the money."

Harry eyes grew wide. Then he stuck out his hands.

"The evidence certainly is piling up," he grunted. "I might as well save my talking for later."

"That's a good idea." The sheriff snapped the handcuffs into place. Then Fairchild shut off the pumps and they started toward the machine. Back in Orlad more news awaited them. Harry, if Harry had been the highwayman, had gone to no expense for his outfit. The combined general store and hardware emporium of Gregg Brothers had been robbed of the articles necessary for a disguise—the also the revolvers and their bullets. Robert Fairchild watched Harry placed in the solitary cell of the county jail with a spirit that could not respond to the Cornishman's grin and his assurances that morning would bring a righting of affairs. Four charged hung heavy above him: that of horse-stealing, of burglary, of highway robbery, and worse, the final assault with attempt to kill. Fairchild turned wearily away; he could not find the optimism to join Harry's cheerful announcement that it would be "all right." The appearances were otherwise. Besides, up in the little hospital on the hill, Fairchild had seen lights gleaming as he entered the jail, and he knew that doctors were working there over the wounded body of the fiddler. Tired, heavy at heart, his earlier conquest of the night solid and overshadowed now, he turned away from the cell and its optimistic occupant—out into the night.

It was only a short walk to the hospital and Fairchild went there, to stop behind a boulder and to shout a command:

"Hey you, in there."

"By yourself?" It was Harry's voice.

"Come out—and be quick' about it. Hold your light in front of your face with both hands."

"The 'ell I will! And 'oo's talkin'?"

"Sheriff Adams of Clear Creek county. You've got one minute to come out—or I'll shoot."

"I'm coming on the run."

And almost instantly the form of Harry, his acetylene lamp lighting up his bulbous, surprised countenance with its spraylike mustache, appeared at the mouth of the tunnel.

"What the bloody 'ell?" he gasped as he looked into the muzzle of the revolver. From down the mountain side came the shout of one of the deputies:

"Sheriff! Looks like it's him, all right. I've found a horse down here—all sweatied up from running."

"That's about the answer!" Sheriff Adams went forward and with a motion of his revolver sent Harry's hands into the air. "Let's see what you've got on you."

A light gleamed below as an electric flash in the hands of one of the deputies began an investigation of the surroundings. The sheriff, flushing his search of Harry's pockets, stepped back.

"Well," he demanded, "what did you do with the proceeds?"

"The proceeds?" Harry stared blankly. "Of what?"

"Quit your kidding, now. They've found your horse down there."

"Wouldn't it be a good idea—" Fairchild had cut in acridly—"to save your accusations on this thing until you're a little surer of it? Harry hasn't any horse. If he's rented one, you ought to be able to find that out pretty shortly."

Either chance, or something stronger, had done the rest. The finding of the stolen horse and the carelessly left.

As if in answer, the sheriff turned and shouted a question down the hall.

"It's all right now," he said, calming her. "Everything's over—look, they're helping the fiddler to his feet. Maybe he's not badly hurt. Everything's all right."

And then he straightened. A man had unlocked the door from the outside and had rushed into the dance hall, excited, shouting. It was Maurice Rodaine.

"I know what it was," he almost screamed. "I got a good look at him—jumped out of the window and almost headed him off. He took off his mask outside—and I saw him."

"You saw him?" A hundred voices shouted the question at once.

"Yes." Then Maurice Rodaine nodded straight toward Robert Fairchild. "The light was good, and I got a straight look at him. He was that fellow's partner—a Cornishman they call Harry!"

"I don't believe it!" Anita Richmond exclaimed with conviction and clutched at Fairchild's arm. "I don't believe it!"

"I can't!" Robert answered. Then he turned to the accuser. "How could it be possible for Harry to be down here robbing a dance hall when he's out working the mine?"

"Working the mine?" This time it was the sheriff. "What's the necessity for a day and night shift?"

"We agreed upon it yesterday after noon."

"Then please—" Pardon me," she had said a hand on his arm for just a moment, then hurried away. Fairchild saw that she was approaching young Rodaine, scowling in the background. That person shot an angry remark at her as she approached and followed it with strenuous denunciations. Fairchild knew the reason, "Jealousy! Couples, running from the dance floor, jostled made cache near the mouth of the Blue Poppy mine would be sufficient in the eyes of any jury. The evidence was both direct and circumstantial. To Fairchild's mind, there was small chance for escape by Harry, once his case went to trial.

Down the dark street the man wandered, his hands sunk deep in his pockets, his head low between his shoulders—only to suddenly galvanize into intensity, and to stop short that he might hear again the voice which had come to him. At one side was a big house—a house whose occupants knew instinctively, for he had seen the shadow of a woman, hands outstretched, as she passed the light, straw shade of a window on the second floor. More, he had heard her voice, supplemented by gruffer tones as when it came again.

It was pleading, and at the same time angered with the passion of a person approaching hysteria. A burly sentence answered her, something that Fairchild could not understand. He left the old board sidewalk and crept to the porch that he might hear the better. Then every nerve within him jangled, and the black of the darkness changed to red. The Rodaines were within; he had heard first the cold voice of the father, then the rasping tones of the son, in upbraiding. More, there had come the sobbing of a woman; instinctively Fairchild knew that it was Anita Richmond. And then:

"Leave this house—leave me! Leave this house! Can't you see that you're killing him? Don't you dare touch me—leave this house! No—I won't be quiet—I won't—you're killing him, I tell you!"

And Fairchild waited for nothing more. A lunge, and he was on the veranda. One more spring and he had reached the door, to find it unlocked, to throw it wide and to leap into the hall. Great steps, and he had cleared the stairs to the second floor.

Dimly, as through a red screen, Fairchild saw the frightened face of Anita Richmond, and on the landing, fronting him angrily, stood the two Rodaines. For a moment, Fairchild disregarded them and turned to the sobbing, disheveled little being in the doorway.

"What's happened?"

"They were threatening me—and father!" she moaned. "But you shouldn't have come in—you shouldn't have—"

"I heard you scream. I couldn't help it. I heard you say they were killing your father—"

The girl looked anxiously toward an inner room, where Fairchild could see faintly the still figure of a man outlined under the covers of an old-fashioned four-poster.

"They—they—got him excited. He had another stroke. I—I couldn't stand it any longer."

"You'd better get out," said Fairchild curtly to the Rodaines, with a suggestive motion toward the stairs. They hesitated a moment and Maurice seemed about to launch himself at Robert, but his father held a restraining hand on his arm. A step and the elder Rodaine hesitated.

"I'm only going because of your father," he said gruffly, with a glance toward Anita. "I'm not going because—"

"Oh, I know. Mr. Fairchild shouldn't have come in here. He shouldn't have done it. I'm sorry—please go."

Down the steps they went, the old man with his hand still on his son's arm; while, white-faced, Fairchild awaited Anita, who had suddenly sped past him into the sick-room, then was weakly returning.

"Can I help you?" he asked at last.

"Yes," came her rather cold answer, only to be followed by a quickly whispered "Forgive me." And then the girl was silent.

That Harry was innocent was certain—to Robert Fairchild.

Looking back over it now, he could see how easily Fair had played into the hands of the Rodaines, if the Rodaines had not possessed a deeper concern than merely to seize upon a happening and turn it to their own account. The highwayman was big. The highwayman talked with a "Cousin-Jack" accent—for all Cornishmen are "Cousin Jacks" in the mining country. Those two features in themselves, Fairchild thought, as he stumbled along in the darkness, were sufficient to start the scheming plot in the brain of Maurice Rodaine, already ugly and evil through the trick played by Harry on his father and the rebuke that had come from Anita Richmond. It was an easy matter for him to get the inspiration, leap out of the window, and then wait until the robber had gone, that he might bare forth with his accusation. And after that—

"I'm only going because of your father," he said gruffly, with a glance toward Anita. "I'm not going because—"

"Oh, I know. Mr. Fairchild shouldn't have come in here. He shouldn't have done it. I'm sorry—please go."

Down the steps they went, the old man with his hand still on his son's arm; while, white-faced, Fairchild awaited Anita, who had suddenly sped past him into the sick-room, then was weakly returning.

"Can I help you?" he asked at last.

"Yes," came her rather cold answer, only to be followed by a quickly whispered "Forgive me." And then the girl was silent.

That Harry was innocent was certain—to Robert Fairchild.

Looking back over it now, he could see how easily Fair had played into the hands of the Rodaines, if the Rodaines had not possessed a deeper concern than merely to seize upon a happening and turn it to their own account. The highwayman was big. The highwayman talked with a "Cousin-Jack" accent—for all Cornishmen are "Cousin Jacks" in the mining country. Those two features in themselves, Fairchild thought, as he stumbled along in the darkness, were sufficient to start the scheming plot in the brain of Maurice Rodaine, already ugly and evil through the trick played by Harry on his father and the rebuke that had come from Anita Richmond. It was an easy matter for him to get the inspiration, leap out of the window, and then wait until the robber had gone, that he might bare forth with his accusation. And after that—

"I'm only going because of your father," he said gruffly, with a glance toward Anita. "I'm not going because—"

"Oh, I know. Mr. Fairchild shouldn't have come in here. He shouldn't have done it. I'm sorry—please go."

Down the steps they went, the old man with his hand still on his son's arm; while, white-faced, Fairchild awaited Anita, who had suddenly sped past him into the sick-room, then was weakly returning.

"Can I help you?" he asked at last.

"Yes," came her rather cold answer, only to be followed by a quickly whispered "Forgive me." And then the girl was silent.

That Harry was innocent was certain—to Robert Fairchild.

Looking back over it now, he could see how easily Fair had played into the hands of the Rodaines, if the Rodaines had not possessed a deeper concern than merely to seize upon a happening and turn it to their own account. The highwayman was big. The highwayman talked with a "Cousin-Jack" accent—for all Cornishmen are "Cousin Jacks" in the mining country. Those two features in themselves, Fairchild thought, as he stumbled along in the darkness, were sufficient to start the scheming plot in the brain of Maurice Rodaine, already ugly and evil through the trick played by Harry on his father and the rebuke that had come from Anita Richmond. It was an easy matter for him to get the inspiration, leap out of the window, and then wait until the robber had gone, that he might bare forth with his accusation. And after that—

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble and she has since the first time her sickness appeared, feared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter." — Mrs. W. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

DON'T DESPAIR

If you are troubled with pains or aches; feel tired; have headache, indigestion, insomnia; painful passage of urine, you will find relief in

GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles and National Remedy of Holland since 1896. Three sizes, all druggists.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

BEAUTY IN EVERY BOX
"HARLEM" is a registered trademark of the company that does wonders for the complexion. Removes tan, mole-patches, pimples, acne, etc. A wonder for the complexion. Price 20c per box.

DR. C. H. BERRY CO., 2175 Michigan Avenue, Chicago

LUCKY STRIKE
CIGARETTE
IT'S TOASTED

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

Prolific Writer.

Claribel, age twelve, is a regular reader of poetry. Not infrequently she notes a poem signed "Anonymous." That puzzled her and one day she asked her father who "Anonymous" is. Father had to admit he did not know. "Well," said Claribel, "he certainly writes a lot of poems."

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

BELL-ANS INDIGESTION 25 CENTS

6 BELL-ANS Hot water Sure Relief

BELL-ANS 25¢ and 75¢ Packages. Everywhere

The Pessimist.
An American, after many years as a happy bachelor, found himself at last hooked and booked for matrimony. Early on his wedding day a friend met him carrying a wreath tied up with mourning ribbons.

"Good heavens, man," said the friend, "I thought this was your wed-ding day."

"So it is," was the glib reply. "Then what on earth are you doing with that?"

"Oh, it's all right," explained the bridegroom-elect. "I'm just going to lay it on the statue of liberty."

Playing-Card Production.
The United States produces between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 packs of playing cards a year and imports fewer than 500,000.

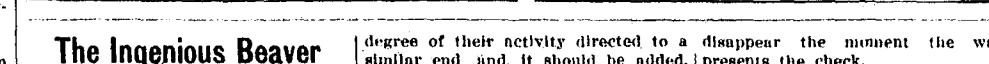

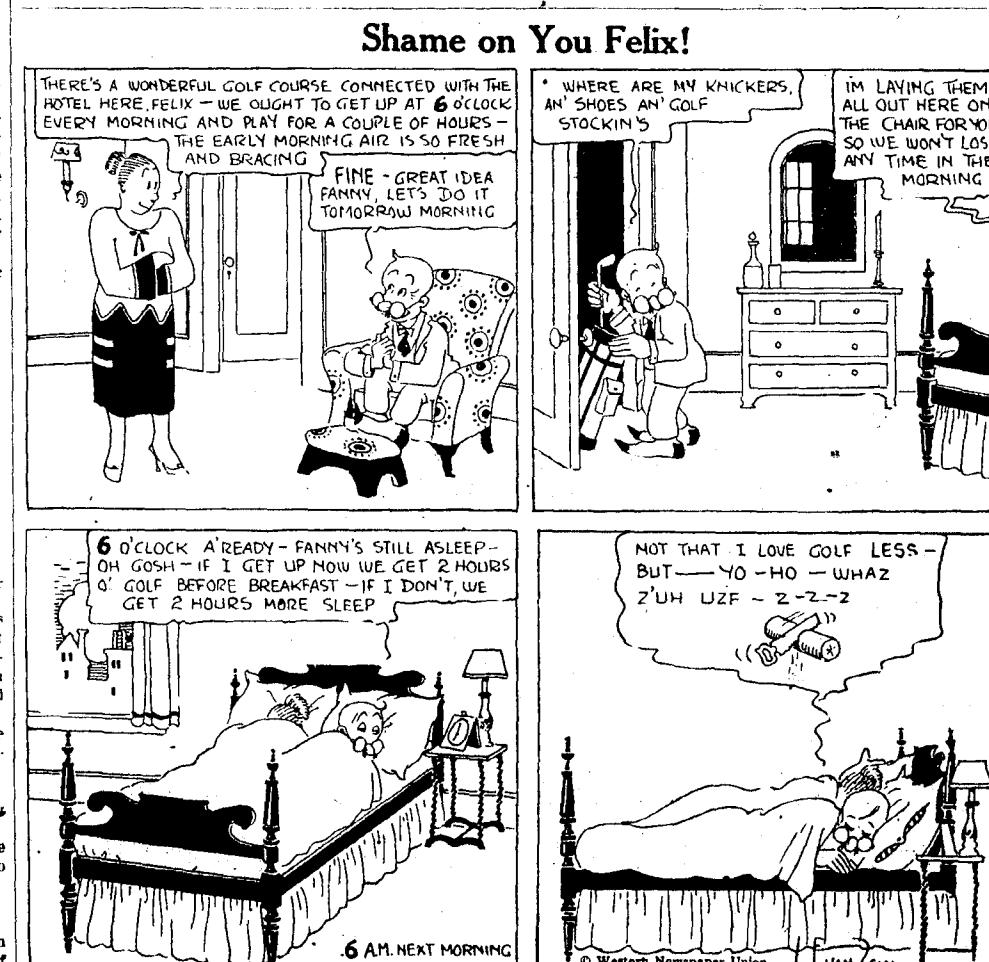

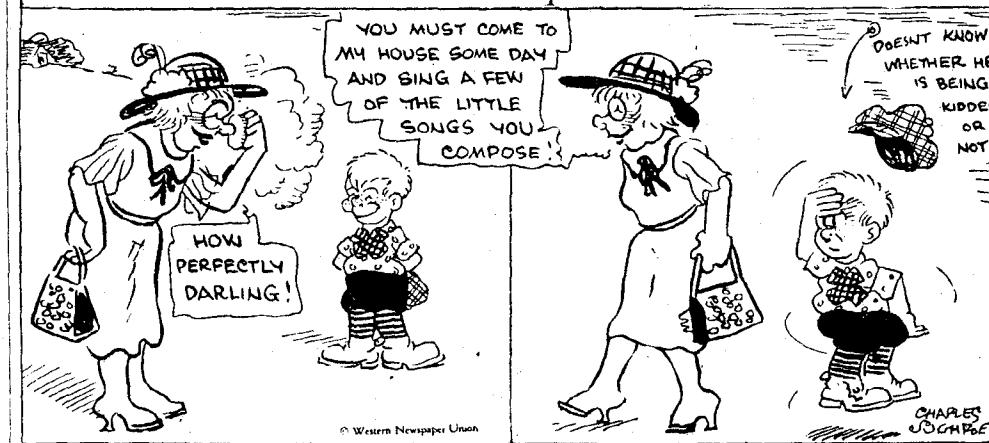

There's beggary in the love that can be reckoned.

Use MURINE Night Morning & Keep Your Eyes Clean & Clear & Healthy. Write for free Eye Care Book Murine Co., Chicago.

W. N. U., DETROIT, NO. 39-1922

OUR COMIC SECTION

On the Road of Good Intentions

The Ingenious Beaver

In a paper presented to the British association, attention was invited to the great advantage that was gained by the first animals which succeeded in securing thermal and chemical constancy in their environment, thus rendering themselves independent of changes in the external medium. Man is the most remarkable for his activity in this respect, but many other creatures differ from him only in the degree of their activity directed to a similar end, and, it should be added, in some parts of this country the activity of the beaver in creating an artificial environment has, until lately, been more marked than that of man himself.

It Sometimes Happens.
When a man won't make love to a pretty girl he is either sick, sleepy or worn.

Most girls are clever prostitutes; they can make a man's $20 bill

Neglectful.
Pussy, with eyes closed, was purring on the mint when Archie exclaimed: "Oh, ma, kitty's gone to sleep and forgot to stop her motor!"—Boston Transcript.

Modern Surgical Wonder.
I translated a gland from a monkey wrench to my silvers. Then I went for a ride and a motor car tried to pinch me for speeding, and the car hit him and then climbed a tree and hung from the branches by its tail light.—From a Letter in the Chicago Tribune.

He that would eat the kernel must crack the nut.

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

10 Cents

Gives Charming New Color Tone to Old Sweaters

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES—dyes or tints as you wish

Early Settlers.

"Tony, you born in Italy?"

"No."

"Father?"

"No."

"Grandpop?"

"No, all born here."

"You surprise me. How long have your folks been in America?"

"Long time. I think they come over with Columbus."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of appetite, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Naturally Endowed.

The woman said she wanted a book to give her little boy on his birthday, something useful and instructive.

"Here's an excellent one on 'Self Help,'" said the clerk.

"Self help?" she exclaimed. "He doesn't need any instruction in that line—you ought to see him at a party."—Boston Transcript.

FREEDOM FROM LAXATIVES

Discovery by Scientists Has Replaced Them.

Pills and salts give temporary relief from constipation only at the expense of permanent injury, says an eminent medical authority.

Science has found a newer, better way—means as simple as Nature itself.

In perfect health a natural lubricant keeps the food waste soft and moving. But when constipation exists this natural lubricant is not sufficient. Medical authorities have found that the gentle lubricating action of Nujol most closely resembles that of Nature's own lubricant. As Nujol is not a laxative it cannot give. It is in no sense a medicine. And like pure water it is harmless and pleasant.

Nujol is prescribed by physicians used in leading hospitals. Get a bottle from your druggist today.—Advertisement.

Modern Surgical Wonder.

I translated a gland from a monkey wrench to my silvers. Then I went for a ride and a motor car tried to pinch me for speeding, and the car hit him and then climbed a tree and hung from the branches by its tail light.—From a Letter in the Chicago Tribune.

He that would eat the kernel must crack the nut.

Up to Date.

"What have you ready to serve, Oscar?" "Hushed vitamins and vitamins are in mode,"—Judge.

Sniffing in the face of adversity is likely to be a mere grimace. Why pretend?

The woman who came to see the city editor today had a new one.

"Are you the city editor?" she asked.

"Yes, madam," he replied.

"Which city?" she inquired blandly.

—Washington Star.

Redecorate with little trouble, less expense and greater satisfaction. There is one best way to do it.

Modern Surgical Wonder.

I translated a gland from a monkey wrench to my silvers. Then I went for a ride and a motor car tried to pinch me for speeding, and the car hit him and then climbed a tree and hung from the branches by its tail light.—From a Letter in the Chicago Tribune.

He that would eat the kernel must crack the nut.

Make your Old Walls NEW

Redecorate with little trouble, less expense and greater satisfaction. There is one best way to do it.

Modern Surgical Wonder.

I translated a gland from a monkey wrench to my silvers. Then I went for a ride and a motor car tried to pinch me for speeding, and the car hit him and then climbed a tree and hung from the branches by its tail light.—From a Letter in the Chicago Tribune.

He that would eat the kernel must crack the nut.

Alabastine Instead of Kalsomine or Wall Paper

Redecorate with little trouble, less expense and greater satisfaction. There is one best way to do it.

Modern Surgical Wonder.

I translated a gland from a monkey wrench to my silvers. Then I went for a ride and a motor car tried to pinch me for speeding, and the car hit him and then climbed a tree and hung from the branches by its tail light.—From a Letter in the Chicago Tribune.

He that would eat the kernel must crack the nut.

FARM BUREAU NOTES.

(Continued from first page)
accomplished much. But they launched out, increased, grew, expanded, did more and more each year.

Every farmer of us should do the same.

Yank out those stumps. Jump onto a two bottom plow. Rip the fields in fifteen acre lots. Do business on a larger scale. Don't tread all day in a peck measure. Sow the world that you have some culture and gumption.

Three Jobs Ahead.

Three things should be attended to right now on every Crawford county farm.

First: Sow two bushels of rye to the acre wherever you can stick it in. Plow it in next spring. The soil of this county, on every farm calls for green manure.

Second: Build an ice house. Build it in a handy place—handy to fill, and handy to get out the ice. Build it of jack pine poles if you can't do better, but build it. We are going into the dairy business here, more and more. Those who have tried it ahead of us say there is nothing like ice in caring for dairy products.

With the small sized corn fields and the small sized potato fields that most have there is time enough to do this if the fall is not droned away.

Third: Fix up the present hen house, clean, light, warm, or build a new one.

No, we are not such big super-men that we are above bothering with hens.

Give hens good quarters, a balanced ration, and frequent attention and they will pay the grocery bill this winter, and the whole year, too.

Apples Spoiling.

On all sides I hear of apples spoiling and little sale for them.

People in Grayling ought to buy of farmers an abundance of apples and lay away in the cellar fifteen to twenty bushels of apples for each family. There is no better tonic or medicine for man, woman, or child than lots of apples well chewed.

The farmer ought to put into his cellar many bushels of apples for his family and to sell towards spring.

If handled with extreme care, avoiding all bruises, they will keep longer. When an apple is bruised, even by pouring or dropping, it helps start rot.

New Source of Income.

The rest of the apple crop should be made into cider, apple butter and fruit butter.

I am strictly against card cider. Cider can be kept sweet all winter by a recipe that the government itself recommends. I will print it next week.

A lot of cider can be boiled down into boiled cider and used in cooking and making the delicious apple butter so common for generations among the people of New England, and the Dutch of Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Ohio.

A lot of the apples and boiled apples and boiled cider can be made into apple butter for the family, and for sale in town this winter.

I know that lots of apple butter and fruit butter can be sold during the winter in quart cans, where apples cannot be sold now.

So save the apples and watch next week's Farm Bureau Notes for sensible ways to work them up profitably into cider, boiled cider, apple butter and fruit butter.

FREDERIC NEWS.

L. A. Gardner made a record trip to Detroit driving through in 9 1/2 hours.

Rev. Hunter went to Lovell last Sunday with Mr. Bender.

The sale last Saturday was not very well attended.

Will Louis' second daughter, while playing with some broken dishes sat down on one cutting a severe gash on her back which necessitated a number of stitches. She is getting along fine.

Miss Genevieve Hunter who is teaching in Roscommon county was home over Sunday.

Mr. Wucker is visiting his family. He works at Pontiac.

Albert Lewis received a car load of soft coal last week, but it did not go around.

Mrs. Harry Horton has Mrs. Williams of Omer visiting her.

Ray Hopkins enjoyed a visit last week from his mother and step father, who reside in Indiana.

Harold Sheldon had the misfortune to get a finger pinched in a shredder.

Johnnie Wucker lost the ends of three fingers while using an axe, an old one at that.

Jim Tobin has a new team of horses. Now when he wants to go in a hurry he leaves the Ford at home.

Morey Abrahams has returned to Ann Arbor where he is studying chemistry.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gannon will take up their residence at Grayling. Mr. Gannon is employed there.

Our people are much pleased with our new minister. So far good houses have been in attendance.

RIVERVIEW ITEMS.

Miss Pansy Losey returned to Grand Rapids Monday.

Ben Hanson of Manistee is spending a few days with his sister at Kamp-Kill-Kare.

Mrs. Wm. Fisher, Sr. returned to her home in Grayling Monday.

Bernard Bronwell returned to work Monday after being laid up for several weeks with blood poisoning in his left arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peterson and daughter Jerrine spent Sunday at the Hotel Riverview with the latter's parents.

Fred Atwell was at Diberts on business Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leech returned to their home in Manistee Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter went to Old Mission Sunday to purchase fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gibbon were at Charlevoix one day this week.

Mr. Matt and Mr. Grover have purchased a bolter for their lath mill they are fixing up.

ELDORADO NUGGETS.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Kellogg and Mrs. Howard Hollowell of Detroit, Mrs. Emery Hollowell of Coy and Mrs. Ralph Hollowell and children of Grayling took supper with the Knight family Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mattie Finsen entertained the Mothers' club, also the "Ladies' Aid of Roscommon last Friday. Dinner was served on tables set under the trees in the yard and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Fresh red raspberries from their garden are being enjoyed by the Crane family. The plants are not of the ever-bearing variety.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Davis of Araport, N. Y., L. J. Miller and wife of Yale, Elmer Head and wife of Pontiac, Mrs. Wm. Dusenbury and Mrs. Percy Legg of Pontiac were the relatives from away in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Hubbard Head.

Mrs. William Crall of Red Oak spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Hartman.

THE ROMANCE OF ADVERTISING.

The adventurer who starts out on his travels meets perils and dangers, and by shrewdness and initiative, manages to avert them and accomplish the purpose of his journey. People say his story is romantic. But you do not have to go to the frontiers and ends of the earth to find romance.

The advance of many young men in commercial life has this element of romance, of triumph over difficulties. At the start they did not look like winners. Often they did not have much education or social advantages. But they had an idea in their head, that by telling the public what you have to sell, and supplying good stuff you can invariably win trade.

From the very opening of their little shops, those fellows would begin telling the public about their goods. They considered that the distribution of this information was just as much an essential of business as hiring a store to trade in. And from the very first, as the result of this idea, the public responded to their initiative, and came in increasing numbers to see what they were selling.

As their sales grew, so their publicity would grow. In many cities fellows who were at first laughed at for their deficiencies, have risen to the top of the ladder, just because they made use of the power of advertising. Their triumph over obstacles and difficulties had as much romance as the adventures of the traveller in far lands.

BAGGAGE PROTECTED AGAINST FIRE AND THEFT.

At this season of the year many young people start away to school. They are outfitted with new things, bags, trunks, etc., that if they have to be replaced would cost several hundred dollars, if entirely destroyed by fire, railroad accident or theft. Many fires occur in schools and boarding houses and accidents while enroute.

You can fully protect yourself against such losses at the small cost of $1 per $100 insurance for one year. The same rate applies for people traveling generally. Palmer Fire Insurance Agency. (AVALANCHE Office.)

THE KEY THAT UNLOCKS THE DOOR TO LONG LIVING.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not so round, well fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he with, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done, there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age.

FIND CLUE IN DUAL SLAYING.

Believe Gun Men Hired to Kill Rector and Choir Singer.

Parker's Lucky Curve fountain pens. Central Drug Store.

MOST MILES per DOLLAR

Where Extra Service is Demanded Firestone Cords Predominate

WHEREVER the examinations and tests of tires are most severe—there you will find Firestone Cords in universal use.

The hard jobs seek Firestone. And so well has Firestone responded under difficult conditions—so consistently has mileage mounted to totals impossible to obtain from ordinary tires that today Most Miles per Dollar is the buying slogan of thinking motorists everywhere.

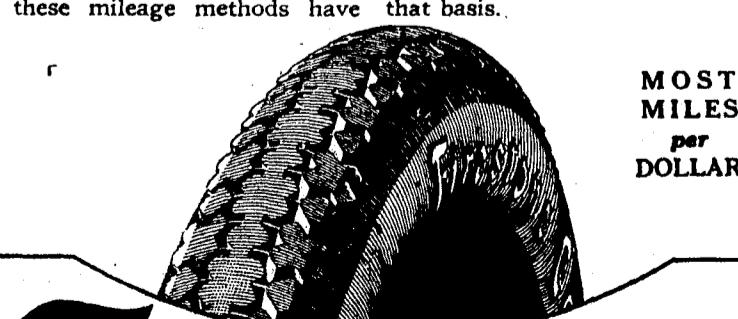

The blending and tempering of rubber, gum-dipped cord construction, air-bag cure—all these mileage methods have been developed by men whose life work is the production of constantly increasing tire values for the public.

Users in this vicinity verify Firestone reputation, and report almost daily some new Firestone record of extra distance travelled.

Don't be satisfied to buy tires—buy values—the longest mileage at the lowest price consistent with such reliable performance.

Make Most Miles per Dollar your principle of tire economy—choose your next tire on that basis.

Dealers—Geo. Burke and Hays R. Nelson.

ALLIES TO GRANT TURKISH DEMANDS

WOULD GIVE ADRIANOPOLE AND THRACE FOR FREEDOM OF STRAITS.

MUST LEAVE NEUTRAL ZONES

KEMALISTS MUST ALSO PLEDGE THEMSELVES NOT TO CROSS DARDANELLES DURING NEGOTIATIONS.

PARIS—Freedom of the Turkish straits and extension of Turkish sovereignty into eastern Thrace (European territory) are two of the main principles contained in the collective note which France, Great Britain and Italy have sent to Turkey. This note contains the formula for the proposed Near East peace conference.

The British are understood to have agreed to give Adrianople to the Turks and extend the Turkish frontier 135 miles northwest from Constantinople along the Maritza river. This would bring the line virtually to the point it occupied prior to the first Balkan war in 1912 when the Turkish and Bulgarian boundaries in Thrace joined one another.

Chief of the conditions which the Angora government must accept are as follows:

1. The Kemalists must refrain from sending troops into the provisional neutral zones during the peace negotiations;

2. The Turkish straits are to be freed or internationalized and this freedom is to be held inviolate by the League of Nations;

3. The Turks must pledge themselves not to cross the Dardanelles, Sea of Marmara or Bosphorus into Europe during the negotiations;

4. Christian minorities in Asia Minor are to be protected.

The Allies, on their side, agree to withdraw their troops from Constantinople as soon as the Near East peace treaty is effective, and to admit Turkey into the League of Nations so that she will bear a share of the responsibility for keeping the Turkish straits neutral.

If the Turks agree to the conditions and a peace conference is actually summoned, the treaty resulting from it will take the place of the treaty of Sevres, which gave Thrace, including the city of Adrianople, to Greece.

LABOR WILL APPEAL DECISION

Judge Wilkerson Rules Shop Crafts Strike a "Conspiracy."

CHICAGO—With the concerted action of the shop crafts in striking held to be a "conspiracy," in the opinion handed down Sept. 23 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson in the restraining order granted for by Attorney-General Daugherty, plans for a bitter legal battle to nullify the court's opinion have been started by attorneys for the defendants, assisted by attorneys for other railroad organizations working in harmony with the American Federation of Labor.

In the opinion of the government Judge Wilkerson's decision was half as clear cut victory with respect to the future handling of strikes.

FIND CLUE IN DUAL SLAYING

Believe Gun Men Hired to Kill Rector and Choir Singer.

CHICAGO—With the concerted action of the shop crafts in striking held to be a "conspiracy," in the opinion handed down Sept. 23 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson in the restraining order granted for by Attorney-General Daugherty, plans for a bitter legal battle to nullify the court's opinion have been started by attorneys for the defendants, assisted by attorneys for other railroad organizations working in harmony with the American Federation of Labor.

In the opinion of the government Judge Wilkerson's decision was half as clear cut victory with respect to the future handling of strikes.

INVESTIGATE PLANE DISASTER

Board Tries to Place Blame for Fatal Plunge to Death.

MICHIGAN—An army board is investigating into the crash of a Martin bombing plane which killed six army men at Mitchell Field, last Saturday night at the conclusion of the mimic air attack on the land forces at the cantonment. Major Weaver, commanding the field, appointed a board of army officers to hold an inquiry into the crash, the cause of which, it is said, probably never will be known.

The pilot of the machine was First Lieutenant Raymond E. Davis.

U. S. FARMERS GO TO RUSSIA

Many Americans Already There And Settled On Farms.

MOSCOW—More than 500 American farmers will be in Russia by the end of the summer, settled permanently on the land. Two hundred and eighty-four already have arrived. Negotiations are under way with the representative of 10,000 farmers, and if these are successful there will be a great exodus from California of the Malakans, a group of Tolstoyan peasants who fled from Russia in the days of the Czar and now want to return.

COTTON CANNOT BE CURED

With LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, COTTON is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and internal remedies. Hall's COTTON Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the body. It is a powerful and safe remedy prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, and is a safe and effective combination of the ingredients in Hall's COTTON Medicine. It is what produces such wonderful results in internal conditions. Send for F. J. CHENNAU &amp; CO., Prop., Toledo, O. AH Druggists, Inc.

Hall's Family Pill for constipation.

9-14-3.

DON'T HAVE GOITRE.

Michigan Lady Tells of Relief From a Littiment.

Mrs. Ernest Dowd, Delton, Michigan, says she is willing to write any one now she was relieved of goitre by Sorbol-Quadruple, a colorless liniment.

Get further information at Lewis' Drug Store, most drug stores or write Box 69, Mechanicburg, O.

PASSING THE MAXIMUM.

A friend has written us a letter as follows:

"A long time ago, the man who was then my employer told me the probable maximum salary I could earn in his business. It was substantially more than my salary at that time but the mere statement that it was the maximum disturbed me so deeply that I carefully took an inventory of myself and then consulted some older business friends."

"One man said this to me: 'Jay, go back and make yourself as indispensable to that man that he will put more and more work in your hands, and forget all about this maximum salary.'

"I have long since passed the 'maximum' set and have never had occasion to regret the decision to remain with t. at company."

"In my own experience as an employee I have frequently had men and women come to me in a frank and friendly spirit to discuss their future. This is always embarrassing. None of us know what our own future will be, much less are we qualified to promise a future to another."

"But this much we can say: That the man who is willing to give generously of his brains, time and energy will rise to the proper level just as surely as cream rises to the top of a milk pail."

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

U. S. LAND OFFICE at Marquette, Michigan, August 24, 1922.

Notice is hereby given that William Arthur Dixson, of Grayling, Michigan, who, on June 10, 1916, made a homestead application, No. 03988, for S. E